

EARLY-STAGE INVESTMENT PROPOSAL

Building UrbanConnect from product development to a supermarket pilot

Prepared for Madam Comfort by Daniel Kenneth, Founder of UrbanConnect.

IMMEDIATE CAPITAL REQUESTED

$50 plus the approved banner production cost

ONGOING OPERATING COST

$25 monthly

Dear Madam Comfort,

I am presenting this as a business proposal rather than a personal request for money. UrbanConnect is the marketplace platform I am developing to connect customers with supermarkets, stores, and independent sellers through one organised digital platform.

I have attempted projects before and experienced setbacks. Those experiences taught me important lessons about planning, operating costs, partnerships, and execution. I am willing to try again because building a successful technology company is what I have always wanted, and I now have a clearer and more practical route to launch.

Required Investment

REQUIREMENT	COST	BUSINESS PURPOSE
Supabase database and storage	$25 monthly	Reactivate the backend, store product information and images, and begin building the catalogue.
Google Play developer account	$25 one-time	Prepare UrbanConnect for publication and distribution on the Google Play Store.
Supermarket promotional banner	To be confirmed	Promote the customer app inside Anishok after collaboration and placement are approved.
Chat development subscription	Deferred	The subscription expires on 28 June 2026, but I can continue development with the free plan for now.

The first funding priority is infrastructure and distribution. No immediate funding is being requested for the chat subscription.

Launch and Execution Plan

1. Present the collaboration proposal to the manager of Anishok.
2. Reactivate Supabase and begin creating the UrbanConnect product catalogue.
3. Organise supermarket products, prices, barcodes, stock data, and images.
4. Test the customer and seller experience using real supermarket information.
5. Produce and place the promotional banner after receiving permission from Anishok.
6. Register the Google Play developer account and prepare the first public release.
7. Measure registrations, orders, seller participation, and customer feedback before expanding.

Your Position as an Investor

I do not see your contribution as ordinary financial assistance. I see you as a major early investor and an important part of UrbanConnect's foundation. Your support should be formally recognised through a shareholding position in the company.

The ownership percentage and investment terms will be agreed clearly and documented when the company is formally incorporated. I will maintain records of how every investment is used and provide progress updates against the launch plan.

Founder's Commitment

I understand that belief must be supported by consistent action. I cannot promise that building the business will be effortless, but I can promise discipline, transparency, persistence, and responsible use of the investment.

I have failed before, but I have also learned from those failures. This time I have a clearer product, a realistic launch strategy, and a potential supermarket partnership. I genuinely believe I can make UrbanConnect succeed, and I would be honoured to build it with you as one of its earliest and most important investors.
